[1] MSCI World Index in Sterling, net dividends reinvested, priced at close of business US time, source: MSCI Inc. The MSCI World Index is a generic portfolio of global equities across all sectors and, as such, is a fair comparison given the Fund is also global and sector agnostic.

[4] This figure will reduce if the fund increases in size: £50,000 of fixed costs over £10m = 0.50% but only 0.05% over £100m. We are targeting total cost of ownership of the fund as close as possible to 1%.

[5] The fund normally only buys and sells positions once a month to keep trading costs as low as possible. This figure was calculated in collaboration with Cantor Fitzgerald and significantly lower than many UK platforms assume.

Monthly Commentary (June 2020)

Having been 80-85% or more in cash or cash equivalents through March, April and May, our signals gave us four buys in early June. We re-entered the S&P 500, Japanese equities, Asian Emerging Market equities and our Euro denominated corporate bond.

This meant that we were still about 65% in cash but as markets continued their bounce through the month of June we were able to pick up 0.7% through the month from our 7 long positions (of our 24 possible silos).

I am happy to report that the signals gave us another four buys at the beginning of July which means the fund is now roughly 50% invested and 50% in cash, and the move upwards has continued so far into July (+0.95% as I write).

There are clearly fears around a second potential wave of cv-19 at present. Set against this, however, many economic indicators have been encouraging and point to a "V-shaped" recovery. It is also very clear that central banks the world over stand ready to be extremely supportive in terms of providing liquidity to capital markets.

As ever - we will continue to be guided by our rules-based signals.

Key Risks

- Counterparty risk: The Fund can conclude various transactions with contractual partners. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Fund.
a wide selection of Exchange Traded Funds which themselves own many hundreds of underlying assets.
- Market Risk: External factors can cause an entire asset class to decline in value which would result in a decrease in the value of investments. The Fund aims to mitigate this risk by investing in all major asset classes in many geographic regions and owning assets which are often negatively correlated.
- Concentration Risk: The Fund seeks to minimise concentration risk by owning a wide selection of Exchange Traded Funds which themselves own many hundreds of underlying assets.
- Liquidity Risk: adverse market conditions may affect the ability to sell certain assets when necessary. The Fund invests nearly exclusively in large, liquid ETFs so liquidity risk should be significantly lower than in a more conventional actively managed fund investing in single assets.
